AMERICAN POPE SEEN POSSIBLE IN 'DEADLOCK'

ROME, Feb. 10—An American Cardinal may be elected to succeed Pope Pius XI.

That possibility, once considered extremely remote, was given serious consideration in circles close to the bereaved Vatican today.

Should the conclave of Cardinals, expected to be held on February 25, run into a deadlock, the Sacred College may turn to America and select the successor to the throne of St. Peter's from among the three American Cardinals, O'Connell of Boston, Mundelein of Chicago and Dougherty of Philadelphia.

The conclave will be one of the most important in the long history of the Roman Catholic Church.

The strength of the new Pontiff will to a large extent determine the church's vigorous course in the battle being waged upon it by extremist elements of Nazism, Fascism and Communism.

Decision on who the new Pope will be rests with 35 Italian cardinals and 29 from other lands, some of whom will not have time to reach the Vatican for the conclave.

Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, whose term as Vatican secretary of state automatically terminates with the death of Pius XI, is among those most generally considered as likely to succeed. Another is Cardinal Schuster of Milan.

Either of these, it is certain, would carry on Pius' campaign against prejudice just as though they were still being guided by their beloved mentor.

Of all the non-Italian cardinals, Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, because he is the youngest, looks most prominently and in Vatican circles it is believed he would have considerable support from among the Italian contingent.

CARDINAL MUNDELEIN

Hitherto, only 10 days have been allowed between the demise of a reigning Pontiff and the summoning of the College of Cardinals in conclave.

Owing to the slowness of transatlantic travel and the irregularity of schedules, that has up to now prevented the American princes of the church from reaching Rome in time to cast their votes.

SPEDDY SHIPS' HELP

Now, however, with the functioning of such speedy liners as the Rex, Queen Mary, Normandie, Bremen and Europa, and the Italian and other lines flying the South American route, all seven of the Western Hemisphere Cardinals should be able to arrive for the opening, because the new time limit is 15 days, and may be extended to 18.

Cardinal O'Connell Flying to Florida En Route to Rome

By JAMES F. MCENANEY

"Deeply shocked" by the death of Pope Pius XI, His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, at the "Hermitage," Nassau, in the Bahamas, made plans today to start for Rome at the earliest possible moment.

By long distance telephone, Cardinal O'Connell's secretary, Monsignor Jeremiah Minihan, told the Boston Evening American:

"The sad news from Rome deeply shocked Cardinal O'Connell. We are greatly upset here, in view of the necessity for His Eminence to reach Rome as soon as possible."

CELEBRATES MASS

Cardinal O'Connell communicated at mass with Cardinal Pacelli at the Vatican. He then instructed me to make arrangements for his immediate departure.

"This morning Cardinal O'Connell celebrated a requiem mass in his private chapel."

Monsignor Minihan said he was obliged to make a three-mile auto trip to reach the telephone he used in speaking to the Boston Evening American.

"I" said Cardinal O'Connell was in the best of health, though obviously affected by the Pope's death. Gravest concern of the cardinal was to reach Rome in time to fulfill his obligations as one of the

Those close to Pope Pius during the administration of last rites said his last words were: "Our last rites, like those of all mortals, Sis-

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10—With his right hand raised in benediction and pronouncing the words "Jesus and Mary," and "Peace to the world," His Holiness Pope Pius XI expired in beautiful serenity.

Mournful Vatican Plans Funeral Feb. 15; Pius To Rest Near St. Peter

ROME, Feb. 10—The funeral of Pope Pius XI will take place in St. Peter's, probably on the afternoon of Feb. 15, with burial, as the Pope wished, in the grottoes of St. Peter's near the tombs of his two immediate predecessors—Pius X and Benedict XV—and only a few yards from the tomb of St. Peter.

Requiem services lasting nine days start Sunday.

Arrangements were made for sculptor Aurelio Mistruzzi to make a mask of the pontiff today.

The Pope's body, embalmed this morning, was borne in reverent, colorful procession this afternoon from his death chamber to lie in state in the 15th century Sistine Chapel.

There, where only dignitaries were allowed to view the late Pontiff, his successor will be elected in a secret conclave of cardinals which prelates said probably would be called Feb. 23.

PUBLIC HOMAGE TOMORROW

The body will be removed to St. Peter's Cathedral tomorrow when the public will be allowed to pay homage.

Premier Mussolini was represented in the procession to the chapel by his son-in-law, Foreign Minister Count Ciano.

Crown Prince Umberto represented his father, King Vittorio Emanuele.

The procession, formed at 4 p. m. (10 a. m., E. S. T.), took 45 minutes to reach the Sistine Chapel from the papal apartments.

The only member of the late Pontiff's family who took part was his nephew, Count Franco Ratti.

An hour before the procession began, cardinals, prelates, diplomats and dignitaries started arriving at the Vatican.

Members of the diplomatic corps went to the apartment of Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, secretary of state until the Pope's death, but now Camerlengo, administrator of the church until a new Pope is elected.

The cardinals and other personages went to the third floor of the Vatican, gathering in Pope Pius' private apartment, where the procession formed.

First came a platoon of the Palatine guard, then four of the Pope's personal attendants, and next the officers of the Papal armed corps.

After them walked slowly the secret chaplains of the Pontiff: four secret Knights of the Cape and Sword; the commander of the Swiss Guard, Colonel Sully D'Aspremont, in the colorful uniform of yellow and blue designed by Michelangelo; Monsignor Arborio Di Sant'Elia, master of papal chamber, and a number of the Pope's secret chamberlains.

Prayers for the repose of the Pontiff's soul ascended from the hundreds of privileged spectators as the procession began to move.

CARRY LIGHTED TORCHES

After the chamberlains came 10 chair-bearers who, when the Pontiff was lying, carried him on his portable throne. They carried lighted torches.

Then, with bowed heads, came the eulogy of Vatican City.

As the procession passed out of the Pope's private apartments eight noble guards, all members of aristocratic families, approached the Pontiff's bier and, four on each side, lifted it reverently.

The Pope's body was dressed in pontifical vestments, with the pallium, the mitre of cloth of gold, red gloves and red slippers. His arms were extended along his sides. Other noble guards flanked the bier as the procession moved on.

After Count Ratti came the cardinals, led by Cardinal Pacelli and the dean of the sacred college, Cardinal Pignatelli di Belmonte.

CHAPEL DRAPED IN RED

Then followed Prince Aldobrandini, commander of the Noble Guard, and Prince Ludovico Chigi-Albani, grand master of the Knights of Malta and marshal of the conclave, who will be in charge of the civil arrangements for the conclave which will select the new Pope.

A group of Noble Guards closed

His saintly features, transformed by an expression of supreme sweetness, gave evidence that our Holy Father had entered the Kingdom of Heaven.

I stood beside His Holiness as Professors Milani and Rocchi called upon all the ingenuity of man and skill of medicine to prolong the existence of the Holy Father.

His Holiness appeared fully conscious of the imminence of his death, and at one point he signalled with his hand that he knew there was nothing more to be done.

He was ready to meet his Maker.

Msgr. Deromanis, who, like the rest of us, could not keep back his tears, approached the Pope, intoning the invocation:

"Jesus, Joseph, and Mary, may my soul expire with me in peace."

The countenance of the Pontiff became illuminated as he heard these words.

With the last frail remnant of his strength, in a

(One of the few members of the papal household who were at the bedside when His Holiness expired was Msgr. Arborio Mella Di Sant'Elia, master of the papal chamber. It was Msgr. Mella's duty to watch over the Pope's safety; in the Pontiff's public appearances Msgr. Mella was constantly at his side. And when physicians saw that the Pope's death was near, Msgr. Mella was one of the first to be called into the death chamber.)

clearly audible imploration to God, the Pontiff said:

"Jesus and Mary... peace to the world. Peace."

As he lifted his finger in benediction, the Pope's head leaned to the right.

His fingers still were outstretched in the last action of benediction to this world filled with trials and tribulations when suddenly the hand of the Holy Father dropped quickly to his breast.

His Holiness had passed away.

It seemed unreal to us all. It seemed impossible.

It seems impossible even now.

Crash Traps Pair In Payroll Holdup

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 10—A $1400 payroll snatching, with a pretty girl cashier as its victim, was foiled here today when the robbers' get-away auto crashed into a bakery truck, in busy Bridge street.

The payroll snatchers jumped out of their car and fled on foot, only to be overtaken by police and captured after a struggle.

The stolen payroll was recovered. The robbers wrested it from the arm of Miss Violet Hayduk, 24, cashier of the Tarbell-Watters Co., a wholesale automotive parts firm with headquarters at Bridge and Worthington streets.

The girl had drawn the cash from the Springfield National Bank, a quarter of a mile away, and was walking back to her office.

At Bridge and Dwight streets two men leaped from an alley, snatched her leather payroll envelope from beneath her arm and roared away in an automobile.

The collision with the bakery truck followed immediately. The chase which led to the capture of the accused robbers was led by Patrolmen Charles Martens and Al-

Check All City Yards In 'Racket'

A city wide investigation of all city yards and offices of the public works department, involving over 1000 employees and welfare recipients, was ordered today.

Corporation Counsel Henry Parkman, Jr., and his assistant, Charles S. Sullivan, Jr., said certain public works employees and welfare recipients were involved in the huge "racket" that has cost taxpayers thousands of dollars through the two years it has been running.

FOUR HELD FOR TRIAL

Four men arrested in connection with the fraud pleaded not guilty to charges of conspiracy and larceny when they appeared in Municipal Court before Judge Elijah Adison.

Henry P. Dunlin, 46, of Stoneham street, Dorchester, employed in the public works department, was held in $2000; and Anthony Intravento, 28, of North Market street, Danie DiFrenzo, 27, of Prince street, and Charles LaCaus, 36, of Stillman street, all of the North End and all welfare recipients, were held in $200 each.

Officers described how the "racket" had been worked.

"A chiseling welfare recipient would present a card for work he had never done, to be signed by a public works department officer who was aware he had not done the work," it was said.

"The officer got $1 for signing. Then the recipient would cash the check for wages of from $5 to $15 weekly, and kick back part of it to the officer."

CLEANED UP $125 WEEK

Other welfare workers, police asserted, were obliged by public works officers to "chip in" to buy liquor, lunches or cigarettes, on the threat they would be supplied with vicious horses on their jobs if they did not comply.

One official's price, police said, was a cup of coffee. A worker who came in late simply brought his boss a paper cup of coffee and all was well.

The "take" for the four men arrested was about $125 a week in cash for several months, police charged.

Parkman said he had begun to receive complaints that if 20 welfare recipients were assigned to work in a city yard, perhaps only 15 would show up.

F.D.R. Ordered To Stay in Bed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (INS)—President Roosevelt was running a slight temperature today and suffering an attack of gripe.

Dr. Ross T. McIntire, the White House physician, ordered him to remain in bed today, and probably over the week-end. His temperature was 99.6 this morning.

All appointments were cancelled, including the regular Friday morning press conference.

'Bulger' Lowe Gravely Ill

George H. "Bulger" Lowe, former football star and coach and present chairman of the Arlington board of selectmen, was gravely ill today in the Cardinal O'Connell House of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

According to members of the family, he was stricken two weeks ago and had been confined to his home in Merritt road, Lexington, until his removal to the hospital on Monday.

MAYOR HAS HEART ATTACK

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 10 (AP)—Mayor Frank McManis was reported in "serious condition" today after suffering a succession of heart attacks.

Second Twin A Boy; Born 5 Days Later

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10 (AP).—The McDonnell baby twins have arrived—the first one last Sunday morning—the other today.

A five-pound son was born this morning at a hospital to Mrs. Milo C. McDonnell, joining his four-pound brother, whose premature arrival 120 hours previously will mean a five-day span in their birthdays.

The excited papa, a bookkeeper, mopped his brow—despite the zero temperature outside—sighed, "Whew!" and sank into a chair, with all records shattered for a father pacing the local maternity ward.

The babies, named James Charles and John Anthony, are the first born of the 32-year-old mother.

Block Girls' Cash Gifts To N.H. Slaying Suspect

MILTON, N. H., Feb. 10—Authorities today made a swift round of calls to a score of pretty girls to insure that John H. Howland receives no money from them to speed his flight from a charge of slaying Maude F. Horne, 61-year-old spinster.

This action was taken hastily after word reached police that the 26-year-old Milton man, who vanished supposedly in the company of pretty Aida Butler, 15, had actually appealed for money to a one-time girl friend in Rochester. A check-up cast doubt on the rumor, but Sheriff Charles Cotton took no chances. He warned the girls that if they hear from their erstwhile Lothario—in case he is still in New Hampshire—they must report it at once.

The warning to the young women came came on the heels of two outstanding developments.

VICTIM FEARED HOWLAND

One was the declaration that Miss Horne, a week before she was slain, told her cousin, Mrs. Ralph Pugh, of Milton Ridge, that she was "afraid of Howland."

The other was the discovery that at the time of her death she wore a wedding ring commemorating a marriage which never took place—a ring worn in memory of her intended husband, John Leonard Rochester shoe worker.

Leonard died the day before Miss Horne was to have received the marriage license, it was said. Miss Horne had intended to marry Leonard in defiance of the fact that her uncle, Charles A. Horne, would probably have cut her off in his will.

TO OFFER REWARD

Preparing to offer a $1000 reward for the capture of Howland, New Hampshire officials said Miss Horne, before her death, had called up Mrs. Pugh and said, "Something is bothering me, but I don't want to tell you over the telephone."

Then, it was said, she spoke of her fear of Howland. Police said that if Howland, now being sought in the vicinity of New York, is captured, he will also be cruelties in the death of Charles Horne, who died suddenly and under mysterious circumstances last October. He left his $7000 estate to Miss Horne.

Authorities said they had learned that two hours before visiting Miss Horne's home for the last time, Howland had carefully packed his personal effects for a swift departure.

'Forgotten Prisoner' Faces Death Smiling

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Feb. 19—Sylvester Warner, 29, "forgotten man" of the Western Kentucky Penitentiary, went to his death in the electric chair today with a smile on his face.

Sentenced to death in 1934 for participation in the holdup-slaying of two aged Casey County, Kentucky, men, Warner received a "temporary" stay of execution from Ruby Laffoon, then governor. The execution date was not reset until recently.

$600 Yearly if She Avoids Cupid Dart

SALEM, Feb. 10—If Jessica W. Reid, Middleton nurse, shuts her ears to the call of wedding bells she'll receive $600 a year for the rest of her life.

Such are the terms of the will of Charles E. Russell, retired shoe dealer who died Jan. 1. Russell's will stated he had "good and sufficient reasons" for not bequeathing any part of his $10,000 estate to relatives. Miss Reid had been the widower's housekeeper.

Go From Cell to Hospital

SPARE WEEK-OLD BABY FROM 'TERM' IN JAIL

An inmate of Charles Street jail when she was five days old, Mildred McCoy, now seven days old, was resting comfortably with her mother today at Boston City Hospital.

Sheriff John F. Dowd ordered the transfer of mother and daughter to the hospital when he learned of the circumstances.

Mrs. Evelyn M. McCoy, 30, of Bartlett street, Charlestown, is the mother.

She was committed in default of $500 bail by a judge in municipal court in Charlestown, who has yet to hear the original charge of neglect of her other children.

Judge Charles S. Sullivan, who committed her, said he did so after she allegedly threatened to commit suicide if she were separated from her baby, and he considered she should be under supervision.

After Dowd ordered the mother and baby transferred, Judge Sullivan explained that he had no authority to commit defendants to a hospital.

Dowd said that Mildred was the youngest prisoner ever housed in Charles Street. He added:

"I have no criticism of the authorities who sent the baby to the jail, nor have I any discussion as to the merits of the case. I only say jail is no place for a convalescent mother and a new born child."

DEFENSE DATA TO BE PUBLIC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (INS)—A compromise on its course in considering the nation's rearmament program and secrets involving U. S. co-operation with foreign powers, was voted today by the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

The committee, in executive session, decided to make public testimony on national defense and military relations abroad after all references to strictly U. S. arms secrets have been deleted.

By a tie vote of 8 to 8, the committee voted down a motion by Senator Austin (R.) of Vermont, which would have opened all future hearings to the public. The split within the military affairs committee over publication of its proceedings resulted from its investigation of the presence of a French air mission in this country to purchase U. S. war planes with co-operation of this government.

The committee was called to the White House in the midst of the inquiry to hear an outline of this country's aid to the democratic powers in Europe against the dictators from President Roosevelt himself. Out of this secret conference arose a raging dispute over America's foreign policy.

Under the compromise plan adopted today, Chairman Sheppard (D.) of Texas of the committee, said the committee's sessions would continue to be executive.

However, he said, testimony — after deletion of military secrets — will be released to the press by the committee. Senators will be free to discuss the committee's proceedings, Sheppard said.

Probe Aged Man's Death by Blow in Medfield Hospital

Death of a 73-year-old patient, from a blow in the stomach, today set in motion a major investigation of mysterious violence behind the walls of Medfield State Hospital.

Victim of the blow was John O'Neil, of Cambridge. A report that the aged inmate had died after being struck was made by Dr. Carl Nelson, associate medical examiner of Norfolk County, following an autopsy.

Questioning of various patients and hospital attaches was begun by officers under State Police Lieutenant William H. Delay, assigned to the investigation by District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing of Norfolk County.

JOIN IN PROBE

The State Department of Mental Health joined state police in the investigation of the death.

Commissioner Clifton Perkins sent one of his inspectors to the hospital to join Delay in his probe. Perkins ordered his investigator to turn in his report within 24 hours.

Dewing's office was called into the case by hospital officials, who hinted "drastic action" if the evidence warrants.

BODY BRUISED

Doctors said O'Neil had come to the hospital a year and a half ago and had never been considered a quarrelsome or violent patient. Last Sunday night, severe bruises, were discovered on the patient's body.

O'Neil was given the best treatment possible, officials said, but he continued to sink and died at 12:25 yesterday morning. Dr. Nelson performed the autopsy a few hours later and made his report that death was due to violence.

O'Neil is survived by a sister, Mary Mullen, of Essex street, Cambridge.

Lawyer Held In Car Death

John C. Doyle, former city councillor of Revere, was arrested on a dangerous driving charge early today after the death of a 45-year-old domestic as she alighted from a bus in Concord turnpike, Belmont.

The 36-year-old lawyer, who lives in Suffolk avenue, Revere, was said by police to have struck the victim, Anna LaBonte, Richmond street, Belmont, when his car skidded on the snow-glazed pavement. It was Belmont's first auto fatality of the year.

Arrested by Sergeant Harry Carey of Belmont police, Doyle was booked on a charge of operating to endanger and held in $1000 for appearance in East Cambridge court.

Kennedy Sails On Wife's Call

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (INS)—Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy was today to board the Queen Mary for England, returning to his post two weeks earlier than he had planned.

Kennedy, following a luncheon conference with the President at Washington, attributed his changed schedule to domestic, rather than diplomatic, considerations.

"Mrs. Kennedy, he said, desired to leave on a Mediterranean cruise, 'so someone had to be on hand to take care of the children.'"

Disabled War Vets Plan Boston Meet

National Commander Owen A. Galvin of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, accompanied by Mrs. Lily Ginsberg, national commander of the Auxiliary, arrived in Boston today for a three-day visit.

The visit of the national leaders of the disabled veterans is primarily to discuss details of the coming national convention in this city July 29 to August 5.

The visitors were guests of Mayor Tobin at a breakfast held in Hotel Kenmore. Present were leaders of various veteran organizations as well as local and state officials.

A luncheon will also be tendered the visiting national commanders by Governor Saltonstall at the Parker House. In the evening they will confer with the local D. A. V. officials and members of the convention corporation.

Tomorrow will be devoted largely by Commander Galvin to visiting veterans' hospitals in this area. He will address chapter commanders and adjutants in Gardner Auditorium in the afternoon.

Approximately 800 members of the organization will be present at a department dinner and reception to Commander Galvin and President Ginsberg in the Parker House Sunday evening.

Headquarters for the visitors during their stay will be at Hotel Statler.

Harvard Balloons Make Flying Safer

Harvard's pioneering with automatic radio balloons in the upper air after three years has resulted in widespread use of such instruments for regular weather observations. Professor Charles F. Brooks, director of the Blue Hill Observatory, said today in his annual report.

The results of the scientists' efforts will be to make the air safer for aviators by warning of weather conditions in the stratosphere.

His 'Roosevelt Voice' Bars Radio Jobs

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (INS) — "My friends, consider the unfortunate position of Bill Adams who did not plan it that way."

Bill Adams, famous on the radio because he talks like President Roosevelt, can't get jobs on the radio because he talks like President Roosevelt.

Some time ago Adams gained wide recognition over the air lanes for the remarkable resemblance his voice bore to the tones of Mr. Roosevelt. He was in demand by the "March of Time" and other programs in which impersonations of the President were used.

When ever he made a radio appearance, his sponsor would be deluged with letters from indignant listeners who wanted to know why the voice of the President was being used to bolster up the program.

Now Bill has retained Mrs. Elizabeth Major, wife of the famous cartoonist and a voice coach, to give him a new voice of his own and one that won't be part of the public domain.

For the last few years we have featured great coat sales in the month of February. All over the country the exclusive specialty shops that sold registered Townley coats would turn over to us their entire remaining coat stock—at tremendous price concessions. We, in turn, offered these coats to our customers at unusual low prices. There were, in these sales, coats originally selling in the season for $100 or over . . . and we would mark these coats as low as $30 or $40. Of course they were mostly small sizes, or bright colors . . . and women who wanted sizes 38 or 40 were shut out of these great savings.

This Year

we have prepared for this sale to the satisfaction of every customer . . . whether she wears a size 12 or a 44. We have watched the market for the best values obtainable . . . made sure that we had plenty of women's sizes . . . plenty of wanted colors . . . tremendous variety in fine furs, many Forstmann and Juilliard materials. Intermediate markdowns have been taken. In this final coat sale of our season you can get the coat you want, in your size, in the right color at the right price.

Community Fund Sets New Record

Although the campaign fell short of the maximum objective, Boston's contribution to the Community Fund drive was the greatest in history. It was announced today. The amount donated was $4,426-746.29, said to be the largest ever subscribed in any American community for a charity campaign.

Collections were only 4 per cent short of the goal set, which was $4,645,000.

Raised in a little over two weeks, this year's community budget for good works exceeded last year's by $109,000.

The drive closed last night, with a victory dinner at the Statler, 1500 workers attending.

Stuart C. Rand, general chairman of the drive, was cheered repeatedly, particularly when it was recalled he had effected a last-minute move in which he auctioned off original cartoons for important money.

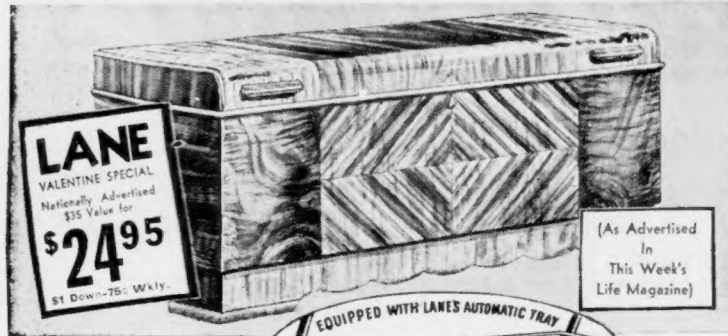

Others sharing honors were Frederick R. Sullivan of the districts division, which led all the others in collections.

Police Study Kane's 11 Commandments To End 'Frivolities'

Dismayed policemen of Woburn today were committing to memory 11 commandments from Mayor William E. Kane aimed to stop every frivolity on the force, from idle chatter to filching storekeepers' peanuts.

MAYOR KANE
Orders Chief to Walk Beat

The Mayor made his will known directly to Police Chief Charles R. McCauley, who himself was instructed to take up a post in uniform in the center of the city to see that the commandments were carried out.

After taking care of the police situation, the Mayor again went to work on the firemen with a demand that they keep themselves awake during the night with a "rotating peripatetic system."

This system, which the Mayor was still working out in detail, calls for each fireman to report to each of the city's three stations during the night by walking triangular relays.

When the scheme is put into effect it will mean no more slumber or pinocchio, for three firemen will be on the go at one time or another throughout the dark hours. The police edict was issued by Mayor Kane chiefly to prevent cops from making business men fork over tips and "presents," such as shoes for the baby and "peanuts, apples and groceries."

The first commandment calls for Chief McCauley to be on post in the center of the city. The second demands that he patrol the center "on foot" at certain periods.

The third calls for a daily inspection of the men; fourth, the police must work from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., or 6 p. m. to 7 a. m. Fifth, no chattering on storekeepers; sixth, no social conversation on duty; seventh, police must have the mayor's permission to perform private services.

No. 8 insists police cars must be used only for police work; nine calls for weekly polishing of the cars; 10 exacts personal neatness and the 11th recapitulates a policeman's creed on "faithful performance of duty."

MORE MENTAL CURES

Cures of mental cases at Boston State Hospital increased by 58 per cent in 1938 as compared with 1936. Trustee Alexander M. Sullivan disclosed today. There was a 40 per cent decrease in deaths as contrasted with the same year.

Saves Life; Aw, 'Snuthin'!

A modest hero who practically had to be trapped into admitting he saved a child's life was being accorded the honor he deserved today at Braintree High School.

He's William Stovold, 15, of Preston drive, a student, and the rescued boy is David Hutchinson, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ames G. Hutchinson, of Morrison avenue, East Braintree.

The high school boy broke a hole in the ice in Montiquot river and went into the water after the little boy when he slid onto the thin ice and went under. Following the rescue, Stovold picked up his books and went home in his wet clothes, telling his mother simply he'd fallen into the river.

SEEK EARLY SPAIN PEACE

By WILLIAM HILLMAN
Copyright 1939 by International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(INS)—Today became the nerve center of feverish diplomatic activity in seeking the Spanish civil war to a quick end and lay the basis for stabilization of the western Mediterranean.

The Duke of Alba, Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's ambassador to London, today met by with Sir Alexander Leighton, permanent undersecretary for foreign affairs in the latter's London office.

They discussed the possibility of an early armistice in Spain and decided to meet again. Considerable progress in these negotiations was indicated, but the question of actually achieving an armistice was dependent on the attitude of General Jose Milla, the government commander in Central Spain.

OFFER ARMISTICE AID

Britain and France offered themselves as a bridge between the gap between the Insurgent and government leaders and to permit them to meet and effect an armistice.

They were prepared to assist in the disposal of the Spanish battle vessels and aircraft in the same way that the British command "Dover" was used as a machine gun at Ford Mahon, where Insurgent and government representatives met.

Later the terms of Italian intervention in Spain were discussed.

Hoping to achieve an armistice soon, British and French are trying to induce the aid of Premier Mussolini. London advised Rome that Britain and France are prepared to discuss with Italy international cooperation toward pacification of the Spanish and Mediterranean problems, and the Italian intervention in Spain.

It was learned that both the Italian and the French were agreed that what is being termed in Rome and Italy the "interference" by British and French forces amounts to the "violation" of Italian neutrality.

MINISTERS MEET

A special committee of British cabinet ministers, together with Premier Neville Chamberlain will meet tomorrow to consider the next steps in the effort to organize forces to end the civil war. The question of British and French recognition of General Franco's regime as Spain's constituted government will also be considered.

So, Foreign Minister Lord Halifax, in the emergency, will leave London tomorrow to return to his home in London with him a personal plane of Airline French proposal.

Franco Completes Catalonia Conquest

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—(INS)—General Franco's forces today completed the conquest of Catalonia and today the Spanish Mediterranean coast of Majorca.

Franco's Nationalists today captured the command of Genoa, Jose Soler, reported to the French General, General de La Penne, at the base of the French ship at Genoa, the French ship, and the French ship, and the French ship.

FISHERMAN'S RING SYMBOL OF POPE

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—The fisherman's ring—symbol of authority of Christ's vicarage on earth—plays an important ceremonial part in the death ceremonies of a Pope and the proclamation of his successor.

The fisherman's ring, a gold ring with an oval-shaped fish on it, is the symbol of the pope's authority. It is the only ring of the pope's that is not a symbol of his office.

It is the symbol of the pope's authority. It is the only ring of the pope's that is not a symbol of his office.

Pope Clement XIV (1758-1795) first mentioned the fisherman's ring. He spoke of it as a seal used in connection with private letters.

From the fifteenth century on, however, the fisherman's ring has been used to seal official letters. Ceremonies connected with the retirement and conferring of the symbolic hand are brief but impressive.

Immediately after the Cardinal Camerlengo (administrator) ascertains that the Pope is dead by striking him on the forehead three times and calling his name, the master of ceremonies draws the fisherman's ring from the dead Pope's finger and hands it to the Camerlengo.

Later, in the face of the dying congregation in which a cardinal prelates for the election of a new pope conduct state business, the ring is shown.

THESE DAYS, KISS RING. When a new pope has been elected, and a new pope has been elected, the ring is shown to the new pope.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL AMONG RULERS

Dean of Roman Catholic priests by virtue of position of American Cardinal O'Connell of Boston.

tion is today one of the four acting rulers of the faith pending the election of a new Pope.

It is the first time in the history of Christianity an American has been so high in the church councils. The other three ruling prelates are Cardinal Bassi, Papal Camerlengo, Cardinal de Belmonte, dean of the Cardinal Bishops, Cardinal Camerlengo, dean of the Cardinal Deacons.

ON 4-MAN BOARD

In the interlude preceding the election of a successor to the Papacy, O'Connell and his associates on the four-man commission administer the ordinary affairs of the church.

The Sacred College of Cardinals, as a whole, takes charge of the church's affairs. O'Connell was present with the few members of the college at the election to be held in about 15 days.

It will mark his first opportunity to vote for a successor to St. Peter.

MISSED ELECTION TWICE

Though he has failed to get to Rome in time to cast a ballot, the latest Pope Pius XI was urged to extend his voting time to allow plenipotentiaries from the western hemisphere to get to the Vatican and record their votes.

Cardinal O'Connell is 78 has been a cardinal for 27 years. He became the oldest cardinal present in point of service on the death of Cardinal De Stribensky recently.

Not only will he have a vote this year but will have a hand in arrangements for the election of a successor to Pius.

All cardinals have a chance to succeed the Pope.

DIES OF BEATING

Badly beaten during a fight in a Rosendale restaurant 18 days ago, George Glasheen, 48, of Glendover road, Rosendale, was dead of a few wounds today. He succumbed to a blow from a heavy hammer.

MEETING IN BOSTON—As word comes from Rome that Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli ranks high as a possible successor to beloved Pope Pius XI, this photo, made by a Boston Evening American cameraman, is of interest . . . showing the Italian priest with Boston's William Cardinal O'Connell (right), during the former's visit to America.

A Mourn Passing Of Pontiff

The death of Pope Pius XI is a great loss to the world. The pope was a great leader and a great man. His death is a great loss to the world.

Very Rev. William J. McGarry, S.J., President of Boston College. The entire world is deeply grieved at the death of His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, for on his passing the Catholic faithful have lost a peerless leader, the workman of an indefatigable champion, and the ruler of the world a noble inspiration.

He governed the Church of Christ during a period of world strife and restlessness, and his rule was calm and fair, kindly and prudent.

"Rightfully he has been called the Pope of Peace, as he is also the Pope of Social Justice. His encyclicals on social questions will always be an important part of the literature of that subject, inspired as they were by charity, conceived in wisdom and expressed with the fearless clarity of truth."

Truly we may say that the Catholic church has lost one of the greatest leaders of her history and the world has lost a tireless defender of truth and right.

BISHOP HENRY KNOX SIBBELL OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"The death of Pope Pius is a great loss to the entire Christian church and to all civilization in these trying days."

Very Rev. Francis J. Dolan, S.J., President of Holy Cross College. "His paternal solicitude embraced every human being. He was mankind's noblest and truest friend. No man in the world pleaded more eloquently in behalf of the conception of the work and the dignity of the human individual. His intellectual and spiritual leadership has been unparalleled in these days."

Barth Herman H. Ribbenowitz of Temple Mishkan Tefila, Roxbury, and president of the Greater Boston Rabbinical Association. "We join with our fellow citizens of the Catholic faith in mourning the passing of so wise a man, so saintly a soul and so humane a personality. The world is decidedly the poorer through his passing."

Governor Leverett Saltonstall. "The death of Pope Pius XI is a tremendous loss to the peace and happiness of the entire world. My sympathy goes to the thousands in Massachusetts who loved him as their leader."

Mayor Maurice J. Tobin. "A Christian has lost a great leader and humanity has lost a much-needed world stabilizer. His mind was one of the few capable of comprehending the economic problems that confronted the world in the present economic stress."

Alviner Brin, Editor Jewish Advocate. "The passing of Pope Pius will cause international mourning. Not only was he recognized as a great leader of the Catholic Church, but he was loved by people of all races and creeds as a man of peace and good will among men."

"The Jewish people the world over have regarded him as a great exponent and champion of fair play and justice for all people, because on numerous occasions he raised his voice on behalf of the fundamental principles of humanity."

AMERICAN CARDINALS GET 1ST PAPAL VOTE

celebrated his 79th birthday last December 8.

There is a strong hint in some quarters that an American Cardinal elected to the throne, would not only be a commendable factor in placing world peace on a firmer foundation but would prove a magnificent crusader, as was Pope Pius XI, in the battle of the Catholic Church against the forces of Communism and the more violent Nazi element.

Cardinal Pacelli, native of this city, was special delegate of the Vatican to several international Eucharistic Congresses and established personal contact and deep friendships throughout the world. He is 54 years old. He is believed to have the support of a majority of the cardinals.

Yet Cardinal Pacelli has formidable opposition. Mussolini is said to favor Monsignor Alessio Asor Rosa, Archbishop of Naples and the most popular member of the Italian hierarchy. He has been extremely active in the establishment of friendly relations between the church and Mussolini.

ELSIE ROBINSON writes the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

U. S. Cardinals Vote for Pope

Cintra, archbishop of Rio de Janeiro.

Jacques-Louis Copello, archbishop of Buenos Aires.

From Canada there is one representative:

Rodrigue De Villeneuve, archbishop of Quebec.

Each will be permitted to take into the conclave a secretary, a valet or two and, if in frail health, a physician. All these "conclaves," as they are called, are like their principals, the cardinals, bound to absolute secrecy.

Insobedience entails the penalty of loss of ecclesiastical office and of major excommunication—even in the case of the cardinals themselves.

During the time they are in the conclave, the cardinals and their assistants and servants will have no communication whatever with the outside world. Their food supplies, other than what have already been deposited within the confines of the Vatican, will be passed in through four windows, always under vigilant guard.

Down the Years With

Happiest with childhood, Pope Pius XI is shown as he gave heartfelt welcome to some 500 youngsters visiting the Vatican for the first time. "Suffer little children to come unto Me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Amid the pomp and splendor of Catholic ritual, Pope Pius XI continued a man, simple in faith, honest in belief, faithful to His work. Here, with the College of Cardinals, he typified his church.

In Prayer, Pope Pius XI of beloved memory knelt . . . far from the turmoil of life, at one with his God . . .

Enthroned, beneath the opening of the Pontifical Urn . . .

h the 'Pope of Peace'

In a magnificent mural, Pope Pius XI was shown as he gave the inaugural address at the Vatican in Rome last year.

Pius XI Shown Celebrating Mass in Rome

Pope Pius Shown Broadcasting to World

with modern progress, Pope Pius XI remained true to the old concepts of religion ... celebrating mass each morning ... and reached out to new inventions, talking to the world by radio.

Pioneer in many fields was the late Pope Pius XI ... bringing to his work the most modern assets ... wiping out old feuds and misunderstandings ... such as here, when, in 1929, he completed his treaty with Italy and left the Vatican ... no longer the "prisoner of the Holy City."

In 1922, this picture was taken ... showing Pope Pius in the Vatican grounds shortly after his elevation ... talking over his hopes and fears.

Pius XI, Pope of Peace

DEATH HAS brought to Pope Pius XI the peace from rack and goad which no human power could give him.

It was suffering that prolonged the years of this great spiritual leader, at what a cost of suffering it was done!

But it was the will of God that he has lived on through these tortured years, the pain and suffering that were his lot were as the crown of thorns that pressed the brow of the Savior even as he bespoke divine mercy and guidance for the weak and sinful as well as for the strong and virtuous of all mankind.

That it was divine INTERVENTION that spared Pope Pius for the inspiration and leadership he has given humanity through the dark hours of its recent past none can doubt.

HE HAS DONE a divine WORK.

Certainly he has served a divine PURPOSE.

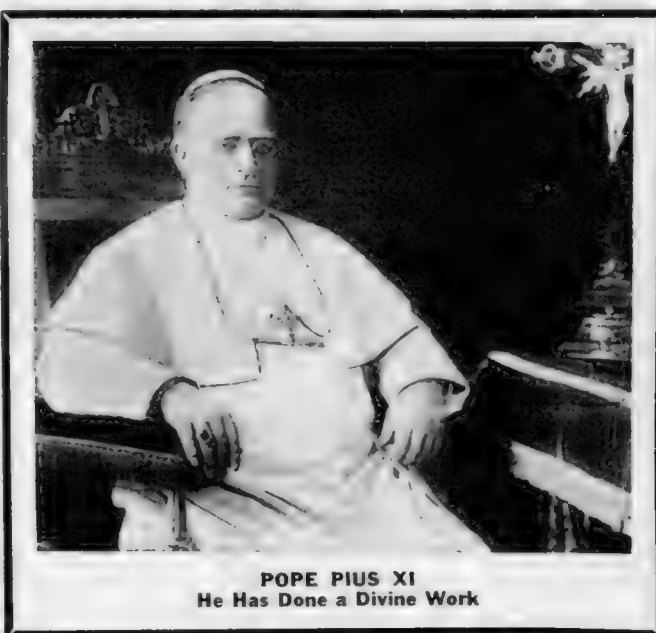

Mankind has come upon an evil time. Governments have arisen upon the earth to oppress and persecute God's people.

Nations have defiled and despoiled their God-given opportunities to make of the earth a place wherein men might dwell in peace and prosperity.

Men themselves have served false gods, and have shaped their lives and actions by paganistic philosophies, and have been cruel and selfish where it was their destiny according to God's teaching to be merciful and charitable.

Throughout this evil time it was necessary for the good of mankind that God's word should LIVE, and thus it was necessary that Pope Pius should live on, though his burden of years was heavy upon him and he was weary and sick unto death.

It was necessary that in a world in which millions of people had forgotten God a GOOD man to whom millions of people would give heed should be spared.

POPE PIUS XI
He Has Done a Divine Work

NO RESUME of the reign of Pope Pius XI is complete without reference to the restoration of historic Papal temporal powers, which was accomplished largely by his efforts in the Lateran Treaties of 1929.

The affairs of the great church which extend to the remote corners of the earth have been wisely administered by him, and the religious and spiritual lives of the multitudes of people who adhere to the Catholic faith and hold its leader in reverence have been welded by him into a monumental force for the uplift of humanity.

However, the profit to humanity accruing from the life and reign of Pope Pius XI is not restricted to his church.

He has gone far beyond any obligations put upon him by church or creed to instruct and inspire PEOPLE by his word and deed.

The right of human beings to worship according to the faith of their fathers or their own conscience has had no more staunch defender than this courageous servant of God.

WHEN THE BANNERS of intolerance and hate and religious persecution were raised by Communism in Russia and threatened to spread through all civilized countries, he stood like a ROCK OF FAITH between people of all races and creed and the RED MENACE OF PAGANISM.

No force upon the earth which sought to drive God out of the hearts of people, or to deprive their children of KNOWLEDGE of God, or to cheat humanity of the comfort and solace and peace of religion, failed to meet the implacable and indefatigable opposition of this great man.

Not as a Catholic did he perform his greatest services to mankind, although he raised the church to unparalleled pinnacles of religious influence.

But as a spiritual leader and comforter and teacher of all men he TURNED BACK COMMUNISM and all other forces of faithlessness and infidelity which in defiance of God sought the demoralization of mankind and the dissolution of civilization.

GOD'S DESIGN for mankind has been kept intact, and brotherly love and human ideals survive in this troubled world, in no small part because of the years spared to Pope Pius.

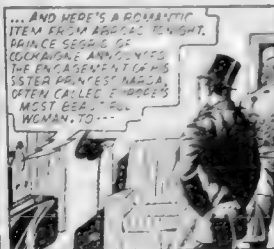

He raised a voice for tolerance and peace and justice when the forces of intolerance and war and injustice seemed triumphant throughout the world.

His voice was HEARD throughout the world, and who can doubt that it was THROUGH HIM that God had chosen to speak, giving courage to the faithful and beseeching the faithless to return to the paths of righteousness and godliness along which mankind and civilization must march to the ultimate destiny of our race?

And now that this voice is stilled, we must have unquestioning faith that his task is done and that God's purpose has been served.

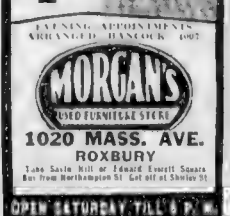

Though darkness still hovers upon the earth, and savagery and barbarism still are practiced against helpless and afflicted peoples, we must trust that God in His infinite wisdom has seen a turn in the tide of human thinking which we cannot perhaps as yet see.

Carole Gave Gable Ribbing, Started 'Perfect Love Story'

She brought him laughter; he brought her seriousness . . . Paradoxical as may seem, that is the story of the Clark Gable-Carole Lombard romance . . . She turned him from a dour, melancholy man, giving to brooding, into one who laughs in deep contentment, the first contentment he has known. He turned her from a night club butterfly into one who, at last, looks seriously at the business of living . . .

Each is deeply grateful to the other—theirs is the perfect Hollywood romance. HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10—When Carole Lombard first met Clark Gable she made fun of him . . .

She and Gable spent some time together, but she was not serious about him . . .

Then came "The Women Men" . . . a member of the group of Hollywood's most important people, surrounded by thousands and operated according to the plan of the famous Mabel . . .

CLARK GABLE AND WIFE RIA

They Learned From Each Other—And Profited

That year she had the women of Hollywood in earnest checking up on her. Her income was $45,000, which was a definite not-in. And the country was a little startled when she announced that out of this large income she would finally net about $20,000. She explained:

"It's a funny thing about all that money. The government spent most of it for me on general improvements on the country—and I think I got my money's worth."

"Only I had to pay my agent out of that," she continued. "I also had to give my business manager a good salary. I had to spend nearly $10,000 on fan mail, parties, publicity and other expenses, and when I got through I barely had $20,000 left."

"But I have no kick at all. Fact is, I'm pretty happy about the whole thing. Twenty thousand a year is plenty for me, and as for giving the government most of my income, I think that's fine."

"I enjoy this country. I like the parks and the highways and the good schools and everything this government does."

"What's more, if I didn't have to pay high taxes I wouldn't be earning so much."

A $500 HOME

And at that time she revealed that her home cost a grand total of $500, far different from the values in which many stars live. And that she had had her car bought, a 1935 Ford, at a cost of $225.

"That sounds like I'm a miser, but I'm not. I'm just trying to stay on a cash-and-carry basis. I'm trying to save money so I can retire. I figure that if I work hard for the next few years, I'll have an income of, say, $50,000 a year. That will be plenty for me. Then I can have some fun!"

Playoffs On Tonight At Arena

With the George V. Brown trophy tucked away for capturing the pennant over the regular Bay State Hockey League schedule, Framingham High School will open its bid for the Harry W. Lawson Cup tonight, facing Waltham in the feature game of the opening playoff.

Needham and Walpole complete the championship pairings, with the two winners to meet next week for the Lawson mug.

In order to fill out the program, a consolation series pitting Watertown and Wellesley; B. C. High and Quincy will provide a pair of added attractions for the fans as the four clubs in the lower brackets battle.

WALTHAM ON LINE

Framingham, the only club in the circuit to complete its schedule without a defeat, will enter its tilt against Waltham, a slight favorite on its fine showing in handling Needham its first defeat of the campaign last week.

Coach Harry Lawson intends to start this same team, with possibly one exception. Horace Taylor, regular goalie, is expected back in the starting lineup to take his place behind Bob Slade and Tom O'Connor at the defense points. Ray Abbott, Ted Wood and Will Mitchell will carry the starting line and will carry the brunt of the contest.

WALPOLE IMPRESSIVE

Waltham, battered by B. C. High last week, will have to show a complete reversal of form to keep in the battling. The Eagles bottled up the Walpole City, ace, Percy Grant, for two periods to edge out a decision and if Framingham can step this star wingman, the club should proceed to the finals without too much trouble.

Walpole looked most impressive in its last start and if the defending champions can continue their fine team work, they may land Needham its second setback in as many weeks. Ed Onion, Johnny Timmins and Dick Harrison can match the Needham line of Bob Schmalz, Ira Hedge and Mike Androkovich so that this game should see the two sextets working at full speed the entire distance.

GOALER FRANK BRIMSEK plucks puck out of air like a first baseman to foil Ranger Pratt's raid. Bruins won, 4-2. International News Photograph Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (INS)—The baby of the Conacher hockeyists, 21-year-old Roy, who plays left wing for the Boston Bruins, carved himself some hockey attention on the Garden ice as he scored three goals to turn hockey's hat trick as the Bears downed the Patrick men, 4 to 2.

A crowd of 16,099, largest of the season—had barely stopped its prolonged cheering for Alex Shibueky's tally that tied the contest, 2 to 2, at 16:11 of the third period, than the Baby Conacher flashed in to break up the ball game for keeps. Bill Cowley fed him a pass inside the Ranger blue line. There was one defenseman back, but young Connie blazed a rifle-like shot into the corner.

With 49 seconds left to go, Coach Patrick took Kerr out of the net and put on a six-forward attack, but Bobby Bauer broke away and fired into the empty net with Chini Smith vainly trying to check him. Conacher pulled his team even in the first period and then sent them out in front in the early minutes of the third chapter. It looked like a permanent deadlock when Shibueky squared accounts again in the late minutes, but Conacher had not been reckoned with.

It was the third win for the Bruins in five starts against the Rangers and put them ten points out in front of the Patrick men, probably settling the question of league leadership. The win also carried the Bruins' unbeaten streak to eight games extending since January 19.

'100 Years of Baseball' In Sunday Advertiser

Do you know that a batter once was permitted nine strikes? Or that bases on balls were credited as hits? Or that there were only eight players on the early baseball teams?

Baseball, recognized as America's national sport, celebrates its centennial this year. The game had its humble beginning in Cooperstown, N. Y., in 1839, survived innumerable obstacles, rode out handicaps and finally clamped a firm grip on the sports lovers of the country.

The story of the first hundred years of baseball is one of drama and romance, courage and perseverance. The game has kept pace with the progress of the country, growing out of the sandlots into the gigantic stadia of the present. Its heroes are enshrined as the sports idols of the land.

The Sunday Advertiser and the Boston Evening American will present the story of "100 Years of Baseball" by Sid Mercer. No one is better qualified to write the colorful story of the game than this nationally famous authority, dean of baseball writers.

The series begins Sunday. It is interesting, colorful and authoritative and will have quaint illustrations. Don't fail to follow it.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Loses in Two Sets

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Feb. 10 (AP)—Hal Surface of Kansas City and Charles Hare of England battled their way into the finals of the International Tennis Tournament.

Hare was forced to three sets to defeat Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 but Surface easily disposed of C. M. Jones of the British team 6-1, 10-8. In a non-tournament contest Mary Hardwick of England defeated Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan of Boston 6-4, 6-3.

TAMULIS SIGNS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Vito Tamulis, southpaw pitcher, signed a contract for service with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1939 and the club announced he was already on his way to Hot Springs, Ark., for some preliminary conditioning.

Wisconsin Wins College Billiards

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 10 (AP)—University of Wisconsin walked off with the championship of the eighth annual national intercollegiate telegraphic straight rail billiard match, involving 15 universities and colleges throughout the country, Thursday night.

Wisconsin piled up a total of 429 points, with Cornell second with 417 and University of Michigan third with 398. University of Minnesota served as a clearinghouse for the results.

Both high individual scores were made by Cornell players—Thomas Smith with 115 and Carlton H. Sheely with 111. John Miller of Wisconsin was third with 109.

Other team totals included Brown 208, University of Florida 176.

be in town by tomorrow morning, according to Tom Kanaly. The latter looks for the most exciting meet ever witnessed in Boston.

Knox Ready to Meet Tony Galento Here

LEWEY FRAGETTA, who is here as manager of Buddy Knox who collides with Al McCoy in a ten-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden tonight, is prepared to sign the Western heavyweight for a tussle with Tony Galento.

"I note," said Lewey, "that the Massachusetts Boxing Commission will approve of a match between Galento and Knox, McCoy, Pastor or Shurco. Knox will eliminate McCoy tonight, and I believe he will prove he is the opponent to be sent against the Newark tavern keeper."

"Hughey Taylor has asked me to sign Knox for a Philadelphia bout with Galento, but I believe the contest would draw more money here. The boxing game is picking up in Boston, and I think that a tussle between Knox and Galento would attract a large crowd."

"I arranged bouts for 198 different boxers during 1938, and have added 20 new ring men to my list this year. Many of these boxers have managers, but I do the booking. I have sent boxers to Australia, to South America and to other parts of the world."

Fragetta operates much like the late Leo Flynn did when in his prime. If Flynn did not have a boxer of his own for a certain match, he always would secure the mitt wielder of some other manager with whom he had a working agreement.

IT IS LIKELY that Gulfstream will be reorganized, and that the new $1,400,000 Florida track will open again before the Winter season closes. I believe Gulfstream would do well not to try to run a meeting in opposition to Hialeah Park, but to wait until the thoroughbreds move to Tropical Park in Coral Gables.

John C. Horning, 28-year-old millionaire who is president of Gulfstream, has found out it is as necessary to have cash customers and money for the daily operation of a big racing plant as it is to have the physical properties of the track. Gulfstream set off to a good start on its opening day, but then found the Hialeah competition too severe.

The average major track has a $20,000 a day overhead. Large attendance and big mutual handles are necessary to keep up with this kind of an expense.

Record Seen In Lapham 1000 At B.A.A. Games

the 1000 with the favorite being John Borican of the Shore A. C., Edgerton, N. J., the National Penetration champion and winner of the 1000 yards at the Prout Games and creator of a new world record for 2.3 mile at the Millrose Games last Saturday.

Borican will face such campaigners as Ross Bush, So. California A. A., and former N. C. A. A. half mile champion Don Fleet, wearing the Unicorn of the B. A. A.; C. H. Odrather of Harvard; Campbell Kane, Indiana University; Leslie MacMitchell, sensational New York University freshman, who is picked by many as Glenn Cunningham's successor for the mile, and Howard Borek, 49th Regt. A. A. of New York, the 1938 I. C. A. A. A. indoor 800 yards champion and outdoor mile champion as well as the National A. A. U. half mile titleholder.

VAULT MARK IN DANGER

George Varoff's indoor record for the pole vault, 14 feet, 3 1/2 inches, made at the B. A. A. games in 1937, is also in danger. Those two California cloud-buster performers, Earle Meadows, 1936 Olympic champion and co-holder of the world's out-of-door record of 14 feet, 11 inches, and winner of the B. A. A. vault last year at 14 feet, and Cornelius Warmerdam of the San Francisco Olympic Club, National A. A. U. outdoor champion in 1938, have a score to settle with Dick Ganslen, Columbia University atmospheric artist, and indoor A. A. U. champion, who took the "native sons" into camp at the Millrose games.

Both Meadows and Warmerdam feel that they will crack the record in the B. A. A. Golden Anniversary games as the conditions in the Garden for this event are ideal.

Borican Makes Debut As Miler Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—The process of changing John Borican from one of the nation's foremost runners at a half and two-thirds of a mile into a miler fit to compete on even terms with the great Glenn Cunningham will start tonight in the New York regatta at the Seventh Regiment Armory.

Borican will meet the Rideout brothers, Wayne and Blaine, in the eight-furlong event.

Cunningham Meets Lash, Fenske Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10 (AP)—The crack of a starter's gun in Philadelphia's Convention Hall tonight will send Glenn Cunningham and three rivals racing over a new and untested track in a new attempt to smash the mile record.

The new track, with 12 laps instead of 11 to the mile, and the limited field were expected to aid Cunningham and his competitors, Don Lash, Chuck Fenske and Frank Donahue of Philadelphia.

They'll Do It Every Time

Harvard Ready For St. Nicks

If the star-studded St. Nicks team from New York think they are going to catch an under-practiced Harvard team when the two clubs meet at the Arena tomorrow evening, they are in for the surprise of their lives.

The Harvard team has been working as a unit for the past five days and last night had a full game workout with the Brae Burn team from Newton. The Hodder first wave of Austin Harding, Joe Patrick and Warren Winslow looked especially effective against the outsiders' defense, George Owen and Johnnie Garrison.

Whatever advantage the visitors will have lies in their more experienced spares. In Rolfe Morton, Bob Cooke, Johnnie Thomas, Sam Callaway and Babe Adams, the New Yorkers boast war-wise replacements.

Sallies of Lynn Defeat Brockton

The seven baskets tossed by speedy Frank Hines of the Lynn quiet of the Salvation Army Basketball League were more than enough to defeat Brockton and keep Lynn in the undefeated position in the league. Brockton was baffled, scoring but three points to Lynn's 34.

Cambridge had a close call in their victory over Waltham, 36 to 35.

The Boston Place Corps was defeated by speedy Providence 15, 39 to 19.

THE DARTMOUTH CARNIVAL! This 29th annual Winter Carnival at Hanover, N. H., is synonymous with skiing and, ever since its advent, this event has done a lot in building up the sport to its high plane of the present day.

Intercollegiate competitive skiing was first introduced at the Dartmouth Carnival, which runs today and Saturday.

There are about 1700 students at Dartmouth, and 1200 "dats" (girls to you) arrived for the week-end. If all these gals and guys get out on the hickories at once, it means there'll be 3900 skis in use! That's plenty of timber!

Steve Bradley, Big Green skier, who was counted on for important points in the jumping, cross-country, and combined events, is out with an injured knee.

DARTMOUTH VARSITY SKI SQUAD runs a strong favorite to retain its title against McGill, Middlebury, Harvard, M. L. T., New Hampshire, Amherst, Bowdoin, Norwich, Yale, and Williams. 57 skiers in all will compete.

Program Opens With Dash Down Moose Mountain

The lone sophomore entrant is Charles McLane in the cross-country and combined events. He captured his class team last year and has performed well in meets to date.

The racing program opens this morning with the downhill dash on Moose Mountain. In the afternoon comes the longsluff, while the slalom and jumping contests will take place Saturday.

THE FIRST ANNUAL EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE SPEED SKATING CHAMPIONSHIPS, under auspices of the Dartmouth Outing Club, will be staged at Hanover this afternoon as part of the Carnival. Among the entrants are Capt. Francis Englehardt, Western New York One Mile Champ, James Hoyle, Howard Schuck, and Powell Brown of Cornell, Eugene Simon and Bill Donaldson of Brown, and Bill Gallagher of Boston College. After all, skating and skiing go

Hannes Schneider to Teach Sport at Eastern Ski School

HANNES SCHNEIDER, world-famed Austrian skimeister, will arrive at North Conway Saturday to assume new duties as head of the Eastern Slopes Ski School and as director of ski activities at the Eastern Slopes Inn. Four men formerly with Schneider at St. Anton hand in hand!

THE NEWFOUND REGION DOWNHILL RACE will be contested on Mt. Cardigan Sunday, and Entries will be from the Member will be directed by Oscar Cyr, Ski Clubs of the Region. Teams of six men will be entered from the following clubs: The Black and Blue Trail Smashers of Lowell, Mass.; The 35 Ski Club of Boston; The Hochfeger Ski Club of Lowell; The Oshon Ski Club of Boston; The Mt. Cardigan Ski Lodge Runners; The Bristol Jr. Outing Club; The New Hampton School Outing Club, and the Thomson Club of Lynn, Mass.

These six-man teams will race with the time of the four best men to count. There will be individual prizes for each man and women, as well as team prizes. Thrills galore should abound, with controlled speed the keynote. "Track!"

and now with the Eastern Slopes Ski School are Benno Rybicka, Franny Keesler, Toni Matt, and Otto Tschol. Herbert Schneider, son of Hannes, will be an instructor in the school, also.

The scheduled WOMEN'S EASTERN SLALOM CHAMPIONSHIPS at Hanover on Sunday brings to mind the fact that the Fair Sex on skis has done much to increase the popularity of the sport. The gals are game and they bring to skiing much color and beauty. Any sport in which girls can participate with men is here to stay. Look at golf!

SKIING CONDITIONS for the ensuing week-end need little elaboration. 'Tis more than ample to say that skiing all over New Hampshire and Vermont is the best in years! There's plenty of powder, so polish up your boards and head North! SKI HEIL!

40 'Pures' In Diamond Belt Finals

Never since the Irish American A. A. began staging its annual Diamond Belt Boxing championships over 10 years ago has there been such wide-spread interest in the show as that exhibited for Monday's finals at the Arena.

There will be bouts in 12 classes—eight at open weights, and four for novices—135, 147, 160 pounds and heavyweight.

In all there will be 40 battlers taking part in 28 bouts. Monday's winners will qualify for the New England A. A. U. boxing championships, which are scheduled for March 13.

The 135-pounders and heavyweights will furnish plenty of action Monday.

LEO DULMAINE

In the former division are George Beckles of Cambridge, 21-year-old, Eastern Steamship Co. porter who has run up 12 victories in one year of boxing; Aurelio Proietti, Leominster; Theodore Tuggle of Roxbury, state champion, and Al Dutra, 19-year-old Cambridge boy who won the class in the intercity show last Monday.

Herbert Connan of Rochdale, state titleholder, heads the list of heavyweights.

Tony Ferry of Fall River may also appear.

Wolves, Otters Hold Interest Of Sportsmen

With three days remaining of the New England Sportsmen's Show in Mechanics Building it is obvious that the attendance will go well over the 200,000 mark for the week, establishing a new record for Boston indoor show attendance.

Joe La Flamme with his trained wolves and Emil Leirs of the trained otters, vie with one another in proving stellar attractions.

Lydon and Waterman give an exhibition of archery which is really remarkable for its demonstration of skill with the ancient bow and arrow. Both of these young men are from Belmont in this state.

Miss Angie Harvey, attractive young miss who casts a trout line farther than any other woman in the world, comes in for much applause and attention from the huge audiences.

The sports events in the big indoor tank are as usual the magnet of attention at 7:30 o'clock in the evening and at 2 in the afternoon.

Here log rolling, log sawing, wood chopping, canoe tilting, archery, rifle shooting and various other events entertain the big crowds.

The Sheik Next On Bull's List

Bull Martin goes after his third straight victory since returning to these precincts next Wednesday night at the Boston Arena when he meets The Sheik from Arabia.

The Bull came back to Boston full of fight and has tipped over Fred Bruno and Al Mercier in two starts, just to prove that he hasn't lost the old touch that made him the foremost gate attraction of local wrestling wars several years ago.

The Sheik, a colorful figure with a spade-shaped beard, recently soared to within reach of the world's championship only to lose and miss on his shot for the title.

Prayers for the World-- With heart torn by war and rumor of war, Pope Pius XI sought divine guidance as he wrought with fading strength the miracle of peace today... sought divine guidance in all his acts... a man of God, beloved and mourned by all peoples, all creeds.
